

Michael F. McMahon, MD

Michael McMahon, MD, is a board certified Otolaryngologist and has practiced in Bryan-College Station since 1986. He also works in our Bellville office. Prior to working in Bryan-College Station, Dr. McMahon was a faculty member at the University of Kansas and worked as the Assistant Chief of Otolaryngology at the Kansas City VA Medical Center.

Dr. McMahon is a Fellow of the American Academy of Otolaryngology-Head and Neck Surgery, and is a member of the Texas Medical Association, and the Brazos-Robertson County Medical Society.

Dr. McMahon attended the University of San Francisco for his undergraduate degree and Creighton University School of Medicine for medical school. He completed his general surgery internship at the Highland General Hospital in Oakland, California, and a year of surgical residency at the St. Vincent Medical Center in Portland, Oregon. He received his otolaryngology training at St. Louis University in St. Louis Missouri and at the University of Kansas in Kansas City.